FIFTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
BOARD OF MISSIONS.

FROM APRIL 1, 1854, TO APRIL 1, 1855.

WE are told, by an inspired historian, Acts xiv. 27, that “when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.”

How natural and useful it was for the Apostles and Evangelists, upon their return after a missionary tour, to gather the members of the church together, and rehearse all that God had done with them, and how he had prepared the way and opened the hearts of multitudes to receive their heavenly message.

The original preachers of the gospel and the primitive Christian disciples, were eminently practical men. Christians then listened to the preaching of God's servants in order that they might understandingly embrace the doctrines of the gospel, and practically discharge the duties which were required of them by the word and providence of God. They wished to know their obligations not only as individuals, but also what was incumbent upon them in their collective capacity as a branch of the Church of Christ. Hence they desired to learn what doors of usefulness the Almighty had opened; and were deeply interested in hearing of the success which had attended the heralds of salvation in their efforts to propagate the gospel. The Apostles and Evangelists were equally ready to communicate this information, and to avail themselves of every suitable opportunity to elicit and encourage their prayers, their contributions, and their pious efforts for the further extension of the Redeemer's kingdom.

Accordingly, on the occasion referred to in the inspired passage above recited, “when they were come” to Antioch, “and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.”

It is probable they related many personal incidents connected with their extensive tour—described the dangers they had providentially escaped—and the sufferings they had actually endured in the prosecution of their missionary work. But they more particularly rehearsed “what God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.”—they described the divine effects of the gospel upon the hearts of multitudes to whom they had proclaimed it, and showed the church at Antioch how wonderfully and extensively the Lord had prepared the way for further missionary efforts among the gentile nations.

What an effect must such narrations have produced upon the minds and hearts of the primitive disciples! How deeply did they sympathize with the ministers of Christ in their personal trials and sufferings! How joyfully did they thank and praise the Almighty for the salvation of the multitudes who had been converted by their instrumentality! How earnestly and solemnly did they renewedly consecrate their all to the glorious work of the world’s evangelization!

How important it is for the Church to hear what God has done by his servants, in our day, who are labouring in the same blessed work; and what extensive opportunities he is affording us for the enlargement of the Redeemer’s kingdom. Such intelligence is indispensable to enable us to comprehend and appreciate our obligations and responsibilities—to excite and sustain our interest in the work—to elicit our benevolent contributions to the cause—to quicken our prayers in its behalf, and to encourage and support our faith and hope as to its certain, universal, and glorious ultimate success.

For these practical and important purposes, as well as to discharge the duty devolved upon them by the supreme judicatory of the Church, the Board of Missions respectfully present to the General Assembly their Fifty-third Annual Report.

In doing this the Board desire, first of all, to express their gratitude to Almighty God for the degree of success with which it has pleased him to crown their efforts, in the prosecution of the great work assigned them. The past year has been one of great pecuniary pressure and commercial embarrassment throughout our country; and yet with the balance providentially had in hand at the date of our last report, and the liberal contributions of many of the friends of the cause, we have, by the blessing of God, been enabled to get through the year without difficulty.

The salaries of our missionaries have not been reduced, but augmented, and all of them have been promptly and fully paid, so far as they have reported. The appointments recommended by the Presbyteries have, with very few exceptions, been promptly made, and the amount recommended towards their support appropriated by the Board. The number of missionaries has been slightly increased, our former missionary ground maintained, and various new fields explored and occupied. The receipts have, in the aggregate, been less, in consequence of the monetary difficulties already alluded to, but in the field under the care of the Eastern Executive Committee, the contributions have been slightly augmented. From the reports of our missionaries, it affords us the greatest pleasure to say, that we have reason to believe that God has graciously visited many of their churches with the special outpouring of his Spirit, and that the labours of nearly all of them have not been without tokens of the divine favour in the edification of God's children, and the conversion and salvation of souls.

OPERATIONS OF THE YEAR.

OF MISSIONS.—Statistical Details.

The number of missionaries in commission April 1, 1854, was 340, to which have been added, to April 1, 1855, 185, making the whole number 525, and more by 2 than the year previous.

The number of churches and missionary stations, wholly or in part supplied, (as far as reported,) by our missionaries, is 819.

The number of newly organized churches is 36.

The number of admissions on examination is 1778, and on certificate 1568, making a total of admissions of 3346.

The number in communion with churches connected with the Board is 20,412.

The number of Sabbath-schools is 305; of teachers, 2350; and of scholars, 14,548.*

The number of baptisms is 2125.

And the number of houses of worship erected or finished is 51.

Of the 525 missionaries who have been in commission during the year, 179 have sent in no special report for the Assembly, more than one-third of the whole number; consequently we must increase all the returns one-third, to make them correct.

APPROPRIATIONS.

The appropriations made to our missionaries, from April 1, 1854, to April 1, 1855, have been at the office in Philadelphia, $48,735.42, and at the office in Louisville, $25,759; making a total of $74,494.42.

The appropriations made from April 1, 1853, to April 1, 1854, were, at the office in Philadelphia $42,547.50, and at the office in Louisville $32,874.42; making a total of $75,421.92.

From this statement it appears that the appropriations made at the office in Philadelphia exceeded those made the year before $6,187.92, and at the office in Louisville they were less by $7,115.42; thus making the total appropriations this year less than the year preceding, by $927.50. As the missionary appointments

* In this report we have omitted all Union Schools, and have included only those which are Presbyterian or denominational.

are made, with very few exceptions, for twelve months, and are scattered over the whole year, of course a large number of the appropriations made during the year have not yet fully matured, but will be falling due as the present year advances.

For the purpose of further comparison we may state, that the appropriations made from April 1, 1852, to April 1, 1853, were, at the office in Philadelphia $35,273.58, and at the office in Louisville $21,637.50; making a total of $56,911.08.

From this statement it appears that the appropriations made at the office in Philadelphia exceeded those made two years before $13,461.84, and at the office in Louisville $4,121.50; thus making the total excess of appropriations this year above those made from April 1, 1852, to April 1, 1853, $17,583.34.

RECEIPTS.

The total amount of receipts from all sources, from April 1, 1854, to April 1, 1855, is $71,834.47, to which add balances on hand in the different Treasuries, April 1, 1854, $22,654.58; making the available resources of the Board during the year, $94,489.05.

The amount paid out at the different Treasuries for the same time, is $78,944.76, leaving an available balance in all the Treasuries, on the 1st of April, 1855, of $15,544.29. The amount due the missionaries at the same date was $10,004.59, leaving an unexpended balance of $5,539.70.

The aggregate receipts have fallen off, as compared with the preceding year, $3,373.33. The falling off has been in individual or special donations and legacies $2,827.03, and in the contributions of the churches $546.30;—owing no doubt to the pecuniary pressure and commercial embarrassment throughout our country during the past year. While the receipts at the office in Philadelphia, including the Presbyterial Treasuries, were larger by $1,958.76, the receipts at the office in Louisville show a falling off of $5,332.09.

The wants of the Western Executive Committee were, however, fully met. Drafts by that committee upon the treasury at Philadelphia, during the year, to the amount of $13,091.00 (which was more by $7,600.60 than the year previous) were promptly paid, and repeated instructions forwarded by the Corresponding Secretary of the Board to that Committee, not to reduce their appropriations to the missionaries, nor to defer the payment of their salaries, but to draw promptly and freely upon the treasury at Philadelphia whenever their funds were insufficient to meet their liabilities.

The balance in the treasury on the 1st of April, 1855, is less by $7,110.29, than the amount which was reported in hand on the 1st of April, 1854. This in connection with the fact that at the close of the fiscal year, the amount due the missionaries was $10,004.59, shows the indispensable necessity of enlarged contributions by the friends of the cause, and the imperative duty of increased caution on the part of Presbyteries in recommending and the Board in granting future appropriations. Indeed it is obvious that, unless the resources of the Board are augmented, they will not be able to continue much beyond this year, their present scale of appropriations without involving themselves in debt; and as the appointments are generally made for twelve months, if the current receipts are not increased as the year advances, retrenchment must commence before the termination of the year, if a debt is to be avoided during the year succeeding.

For the reasons stated in the last Annual Report, it is very desirable that the Board should not only be provided with funds to meet promptly the current demands that are ordinarily made upon them during the year, but that they should be enabled also to have a considerable balance on hand, to meet those sudden monetary revulsions which have repeatedly afflicted our country, and which have more than once seriously embarrassed our missionary operations. But for the comparatively large balance on hand at the date of our last Report, the Board would have been seriously threatened, if not actually embarrassed, during the past year. And but for the remainder of that balance at the beginning of this fiscal year, the Board would be obliged either to diminish their appropriations to the missionaries, or to run largely in debt; a result not only highly inconvenient and disastrous to the cause, but one which the Assembly has expressly discountenanced. As we have reason to believe that some of our friends withheld or diminished their contributions on account of the surplus reported last year, we again repeat, that it is very desirable that the Board should not only be enabled to meet their liabilities during this year, but be enabled also to re-accumulate a balance of from $15,000 to $20,000, for the reasons above mentioned and others which were stated in our last Annual Report.

RE-ENFORCEMENTS AND ENLARGEMENT OF THE CHURCH.

During the year, the Board have established new missions in several of the larger cities in the East and West, and in various smaller towns and rural districts. They have also, to the extent of their ability, re-enforced our missionaries in the newer States and Territories. Three additional missionaries have been sent to Texas and one to California. Arrangements have been made to send, as soon as the brethren can make the necessary preparation, two missionaries to Kansas and one to Nebraska. One has been commissioned to Minnesota, and arrangements are now in progress to send three or four additional missionaries to California. The Board have been, and still are, very desirous of occupying various other important and promising points, and of extending the present boundaries of the Church; but, as stated in our last Annual Report, the great difficulty has been and still is, the deficiency of ministers compared with the demand for missionaries in a country so extended as ours and a population so rapidly augmenting. The expense too of sending missionaries to the more distant parts of our vast field is very great, and unless the resources of the Board are increased, the want of funds may embarrass them, as well as the deficiency of men. Let Christians then not only pray that the Lord of the harvest would raise up many more labourers, but also increase their contributions, that when the men offer themselves for the service of the Church in her more distant fields, the Board may be able to send them, without curtailing the support of those who are employed in more central places.

The Board would also state that during the past year, thirty-six of our missionaries have been commissioned and employed as itinerants. The greater part of our missionaries perform more or less of such service, but the number above mentioned are either wholly, or almost entirely employed as itinerants. The last General Assembly recommended the Presbyteries to pay particular attention to this subject in arranging their missionary fields, and the Board would be very glad to commission a much larger number of itinerant missionaries. It cannot be doubted that in this way many extensive districts might be supplied with ministers, and a large saving of the Missionary Fund effected in other fields by associating a number of weak and feeble churches under the care of itinerants.

STATE OF OUR MISSIONS.

From the reports of our missionaries, we have reason to believe that their labours have been generally prospered of God. Nearly all of them write encouragingly; and the most of them describe their congregations as increasingly large and attentive. Many of them report unusual progress; and not a few of them tell us of the special visitations of the Holy Spirit, by which the graces of God's people have been revived and many souls converted. Some of the revivals reported to us during the past year have been powerful and extensive, and their fruits exceedingly precious. In some of them God has particularly visited our Schools and Seminaries and brought into his kingdom the youth of the Church in considerable numbers. In others, the Holy Spirit has chiefly wrought upon those in middle life, and has numbered among his trophies some of the most distinguished and influential men in the community. We have, indeed, great cause for thankfulness for what the Almighty has done through the instrumentality of his servants, and strong ground for hope that the subjects of these gracious revivals will prove hereafter a rich blessing to the Church and the world; and that many of them will be called to and qualified for the sacred ministry by the Spirit of God.

But while the labours of nearly all our missionaries have been more or less prospered, some of them report that they have seen no visible good resulting from their ministrations of the gospel, and are therefore greatly discouraged in their work. Many others, although partially successful, are evidently labouring under serious disadvantages and difficulties which subject them to various painful trials and self-denials, and which severely try their faith and fortitude. Frequently after describing in their correspondence the difficulties and trials to which they are subjected in their missionary fields, they imploringly solicit an interest in our prayers. Brethren, pray for the toiling, self-denying, desponding missionaries. We know that they have the sympathy of all true Christians, and we trust they will have their prayers with greater frequency, earnestness, and faith.

CLOTHING.

Clothing valued at $9,137.40 has been received during the year, and distributed among the missionaries who needed it. Of this amount $6,150.18 were received at the office in Philadelphia; $2,107.34 at the office in Louisville; and $879.88 at the depot in Pittsburgh. From the letters of the missionaries, acknowledging the receipt of the clothing sent, we have no doubt that it has been very gratefully received, and that it has added very much to their health and comfort. In some cases, the description of their previous personal and family wants, and the expression of their hearty and even tearful gratitude for the seasonable supply afforded them, have been deeply affecting to us, and we have wished that all who have had an agency in their relief could know how highly their labour of love is appreciated by the objects of their Christian sympathy and active benevolence. Certainly the ladies, who have been chiefly instrumental in this useful work, deserve the thanks of the Church for their noble activity and zeal; and we hope and believe that God will graciously reward them for all their efforts to relieve the wants of his servants.

But while we thus heartily express our commendation of this form of aiding our missionaries who stand in need of it, we desire to caution our friends against permitting it to interfere with the cash contributions to the Board. From intimations made to us, we have reason to fear that, in some instances, some who have contributed towards making up boxes of clothing, have on that account declined to give any thing to the Board; and some churches have assigned as a reason for the smallness of their annual collection for the Board, that a considerable amount had been raised in the congregation for the purpose of furnishing clothing to the missionaries. Now as the value of the clothing sent is never deducted from the salary of those who receive it, but is regarded simply as a special donation to them from the friends of the cause, it ought never to be allowed to interfere with or diminish the contributions to the Board. Such an effect would be highly prejudicial to the Board, and injurious to the missionaries themselves. For if the pecuniary resources of the Board are thus diminished, the cash appropriations to the missionaries must be correspondingly lessened, and they will receive, in the end, a portion of their compensation in clothing, instead of money.

Let it, therefore, be distinctly understood, that the clothing sent to us for the missionaries, does not aid the Board in paying them their salaries, as the value of the clothing is never deducted from them; and that if the amount contributed in clothing is allowed to diminish the cash contributions to the Board, the Board will be compelled, by so much, to lessen the salaries of the missionaries.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

The balance of the Church Extension Fund on the 1st of April, 1854, was $6,332.17.

The receipts from April 1, 1854, to April 1, 1855, were, from individuals, $1,669.24, and from churches, $3,577.24; making the receipts $5,246.48; which added to the amount in hand on April 1, 1854, make a total of $11,578.65. The appropriations paid from April 1, 1854, to April 1, 1855, amount to $7,405.55, which leaves a balance in the treasury, April 1, 1855, of $4,173.10. There are, however, unpaid appropriations, amounting to $5,840, which would more than consume this balance, and leave the Church Extension Fund in debt $1,666.90.

Appropriations have been made, during the year, to 46 churches, scattered over 24 Synods, and within the bounds of 37 Presbyteries.

Forty-nine churches have been finished during the year, and have received their respective appropriations.

For the purpose of comparison, we state, that the receipts for Church Extension, from the 1st of April, 1853, to the 1st of April, 1854, were as follows: From individuals, $3,211.93, and from churches, $3,086.16; making a total of $6,298.09. From this it appears that the receipts this year were $1,051.61 less than the year preceding. The number of churches which were finished last year, and which received their appropriations, was 35, the number this year was 49, being 14 more than the year previous.

As it may be desirable to know the gross amount that has been received from the commencement of the Church Extension Fund, we add the following statement: Cash received for Church Extension, from July 20, 1844, to April 1, 1855, from individuals, $47,711.27, and from churches, $20,832.79; making a total of $68,544.06. The whole number of churches which have received appropriations during this period, is 382, and these are scattered over every section of our Church.

On the subject of Church Extension, the last General Assembly adopted the following minute:

“Whereas, The Assembly has referred the whole subject of Church Extension, or the building of church edifices, to the Board of Missions; and whereas this Assembly believes this subject to be one of vast importance to the welfare of our whole Church: therefore,

“Resolved, That the Board of Missions, in order to give greater efficiency to this work, be instructed, 1. To enlarge the Committee of Church Extension. 2. To appoint a Secretary for this specific department, if they shall deem it necessary. 3. To bring the cause before the churches in such way as they may deem best suited to secure attention to the importance of the work. 4. To report separately to the Assembly the receipts and disbursements of this fund. And further, this Assembly would earnestly and affectionately enjoin it upon all our churches to take up separate collections annually for this object, (to be reported in a separate column in the Appendix to the Minutes of the Assembly,) and upon all our Presbyteries to see that this is done." See Minutes, 1854, pp. 40 and 41.

At their first meeting after the rising of the Assembly, viz. on the 12th of June, 1854, the Board unanimously adopted the following preamble and resolutions, to wit:

"In pursuance of the instructions of the General Assembly, on the subject of Church Extension, the following resolutions were adopted, viz.

"1. Resolved, That the number of the present Church Extension Committee be enlarged to eleven, of which the Corresponding Secretary of the Board and the Secretary of said Committee shall be ex officio members, and of whom three shall be a quorum.

"2. Resolved, That a Secretary of the Church Extension Committee shall be annually appointed by the Board, who shall take the charge of this specific department, and whose duty it shall be to conduct the correspondence on the subject of Church Extension, and collect funds for that object.

"3. Resolved, That the Committee of Church Extension shall recommend to the Board, from time to time, the appointment of such Agents and the adoption of such measures as may seem to them necessary in prosecuting the work assigned them.

"4. Resolved, That the Committee of Church Extension shall keep regular minutes of all their proceedings and present the same monthly to the Board for their review and control.

"5. Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Church Extension Committee to prepare an annual statement of the proceedings and operations of said Committee, to be either incorporated into the Annual Report of the Board to the General Assembly, or appended to said report, as to the Corresponding Secretary of the Board may seem best.

"6. Resolved, That all expenses incurred in conducting the operations of the Church Extension Committee shall be charged to the Church Extension Fund, and paid for from the same."

The Board then elected eleven gentlemen, (five ministers and six laymen) to constitute the Church Extension Committee; and directed them to meet on the following Monday afternoon, at half past four o'clock, and afterwards on their own adjournment.

At the same meeting of the Board, the Rev. Reese Happersett was elected Secretary of the Church Extension Committee.

Mr. Happersett informed the Board that he was not prepared to decide at once upon the acceptance of the office, but would take the matter into serious consideration, and communicate the result of his reflection at the next meeting of the Board.

At the meeting of the Board, on the 10th of July, 1854, the Rev. Reese Happersett declined accepting the office of Secretary of the Church Extension Committee, and his declinature was accepted.

It was then proposed that the Board should proceed to elect some other person to the office of Secretary of the Church Extension Committee; but as the number present was very small, (owing to the season of the year, when many members of the Board are usually absent,) it was judged best to defer action until the meeting in September; and the subject was accordingly postponed until that time.

At the meeting of the Board, on the 11th of September, 1854, it was again proposed to proceed to the election of a Secretary of the Church Extension Committee, in order to carry out the instructions of the General Assembly, and to try the experiment of the plan they had devised. But in view of the growing diversity of views in the Church at large, as to what would be the most efficient method of carrying on the work of Church Extension—the fact that in the section of country in which assistance in the erection of church edifices is chiefly needed, there appeared to be dissatisfaction with the plan projected by the Assembly, and a strong desire expressed for some other and more efficient organization—and especially in view of the written and formal request of members of the Board residing in the city of New York, not to take any action on the subject, but to defer the matter to a future meeting of the Board, to which all the members should be particularly invited, the Board, after considerable discussion, resolved to postpone the subject until the month of November.

At an unusually large meeting of the Board, November 13, 1854, the matter of Church Extension was again brought forward and the whole subject freely and fully discussed; and as the result of which, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, viz.

“Resolved, That a committee be appointed to take the subject of Church Extension into consideration and to prepare a report to be presented by the Board to the next General Assembly; showing what action the Board has taken on the subject and embodying the opinions of the Board as to what the Assembly should be recommended to do in carrying forward the work of Church Extension.

“Resolved, That the committee consist of three ministers and two laymen; and that they be required to report at a special meeting of the Board on the second Tuesday in March, 1855, at half-past three o'clock, P. M.”

At a special meeting of the Board, on the 13th of March, 1855, the committee appointed at the meeting of Nov. 13, 1854, made a report, through the Rev. John McDowell, D. D., which was read.

The Rev. Joseph McElroy, D. D., made a minority report, expressive of his individual views, which was also read; but no motion having been made, either to accept or adopt it, no action was taken upon it by the Board. After considerable discussion, the question being upon the adoption of the report of the committee, the Rev. David McKinney, D. D., presented a substitute, proposing to recommend to the General Assembly to establish some new organization for the purpose of prosecuting more efficiently the work of Church Extension; which was negatived by a small majority.

After thus disposing of the substitute, the Board, with great unanimity, adopted the report of the Committee, which is as follows, viz.

“The Committee appointed at the meeting of the Board on the 13th of November last, on the subject of Church Extension, and directed to report to-day, beg leave to recommend to the Board that they direct their Corresponding Secretary in writing the Annual Report, to give a detailed account of what the Board has done in conformity to the action and directions of the last General Assembly on the subject of Church Extension; and to refer the whole matter of any change in the present plan, if any change is judged expedient, to the wisdom of the next Assembly.”

This action of the Board should not be regarded as indicating the judgment of the majority that the Assembly ought not to establish some new agency for the more efficient prosecution of the great work of Church Extension, but simply as expressing their opinion, that under all the circumstances, it would be inexpedient for the Board of Missions to suggest any plan, and more judicious to refer the whole matter to the superior wisdom of the General Assembly.

In reaching this conclusion the members of the Board were actuated by various considerations. 1. The diversity of opinions among themselves as to what plan would be most practicable as well as efficient. 2. The still greater diversity of views on the subject in the Church at large. And, 3. The fact that various Presbyteries, more directly and immediately interested in this matter, intend to memorialize the General Assembly to establish a separate and independent Board of Church Extension.

In referring the whole matter to the Assembly, the Board beg leave to repeat a few remarks which they took occasion to utter in their last Annual Report, respecting the necessity and importance of prosecuting the work of Church Extension more efficiently.

While we would not undervalue the good that has been effected by our Church Extension scheme, it is apparent, that something should be done to render it more efficient. From some cause or other, the churches generally have never contributed towards this object, notwithstanding the repeated and urgent appeals that have been made to them through the press, and by the officers and agents of the Board; so that the amount furnished has been utterly inadequate to meet the numerous and pressing calls that have been made to us for aid.

Hundreds of congregations might be gathered in various sections of our extended country, if suitable houses of worship could be erected for their accommodation. For the want of such accommodation, many Presbyterian families fall in with other sects, who have church edifices, and are gradually absorbed by them. Many weak and feeble congregations, after struggling for a while without a house of worship, finally disband in discouragement, and become extinct. Many others are prevented from growing, as they otherwise would do, and are kept alive mainly by the sustentation afforded by the Board of Missions. With suitable church edifices they would soon become not only self-sustaining, but contributing churches.

The want of suitable edifices not only embarrasses the Board in its efforts to extend the boundaries of our Church, but it vastly increases the expense of supporting the missionaries already located. As their congregations continue weak and feeble, of course they are unable to do much towards the temporal support of their pastors or stated supplies, and they must, therefore, be chiefly sustained by the Board. Besides, thousands of dollars are paid by the Board to the missionaries, above what would be otherwise required, because their poor and feeble congregations are making the effort to erect for themselves, without direct assistance from others, a house of worship. The Presbyteries frequently recommend us to continue, and sometimes to increase, the salaries of missionaries, because their people are making such efforts, and cannot, therefore, give what they otherwise could and would, toward the maintenance of their ministers. And thus thousands of dollars are given to comparatively barren fields, which might, under other circumstances, be rendered fruitful; and thousands more are given, indirectly, towards the erection of church edifices by the Board of Missions, which might be used by the Board for the support of additional missionaries, and in proclaiming the gospel to multitudes in other places who are entirely destitute.

Without recommending, or even suggesting any particular organization for the prosecution of this work, the Board feel constrained to express the opinion, founded upon their long experience, that without the employment of agents to present this cause specifically to the people, and separate annual collections by the churches generally, as enjoined by the last General Assembly, a sufficient sum can never be raised for Church Extension, in any degree commensurate with the pressing exigencies of our denomination, and the urgent wants of our rapidly extending population.

With these statements and remarks, and this expression of opinion on the part of the Board respecting the necessity of separate annual collections for this object, the whole matter is respectfully referred to the wisdom of the Assembly.*

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES.

DIVISION OF FIELD BETWEEN TWO EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES.

The Board carries on its operations through its two Executive Committees, the one located in Philadelphia, the other in Louisville, Kentucky. Between these two committees the territory of the Church is unequally divided; each committee having, according to the division made by the Board, its own assigned field and limits.

The field of the Executive Committee located in Philadelphia, embraces the Synods of Albany, Buffalo, New York, New Jersey, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Allegheny, Wheeling, Ohio, the Presbyteries of Logansport, Lake, and Fort Wayne in the Synod of Northern Indiana, the Synods of Wisconsin, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and the Pacific, covering nineteen entire States and seven Territories, and parts of three other States; and having, according to the minutes of the last General Assembly, 1,477 ministers, 1,843 churches, and 167,866 communicants. The number of missionaries under the care of the Board in this field, and consequently connected with the committee in Philadelphia, the past year, has been 306.

The field of the Executive Committee located in Louisville, Kentucky, embraces the Synods of Cincinnati, Indiana, the Presbyteries of Crawfordsville and Muncie in the Synod of Northern Indiana, the Synods of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky, Nashville, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Memphis, and Texas, covering nine entire States and parts of three other States; and having, according to the Minutes of the last General Assembly, 704 ministers, 1,126 churches, and 57,315 communicants. The number of missionaries under the care of the Board in this field, and consequently connected with the committee in Louisville, the past year, has been 219.

THE WESTERN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Tenth Annual Report of the Western Executive Committee is printed at the end of this Report, and should be read by all who feel an interest in our missionary labours. The committee say, "At no period since the organization of this committee have we had so many difficulties to encounter in the prosecution of our work." These difficulties arose from the failure of the crops throughout nearly their whole field—the failure of the banks, and the consequent derangement of the currency in several of the Western States—and the curtailment of the circulation of those which weathered the storm. Owing to these causes, their receipts were much less than the year previous, while the demand for missionary aid was correspondingly increased. They were, however, cordially and fully sustained by the Board, and instructed and encouraged to draw promptly and freely upon the Treasury at Philadelphia to meet their deficiency of funds. With the assistance thus furnished, they were enabled to pay all their missionaries who made their reports up to the close of the fiscal year.

The Committee have faithfully and wisely discharged their duty, under the trying circumstances in which they were placed during the past year; and we hope that the future may be less embarrassing and more prosperous with them.

AGENCIES.

From the office in Philadelphia, the three Agents who were employed last year have been retained, viz: The Rev. John F. McLaren, D. D., in the Central Agency, embracing the Synods of Pittsburgh, Allegheny, Wheeling, and Ohio; the Rev. Daniel McKinley, D. D., in the Synods of Philadelphia, Baltimore, and New Jersey; and the Rev. Henry M. Robertson, in the Synod of Wisconsin. During a part of the year, the Rev. Allen H. Brown has been employed as an Itinerant Missionary and Agent in the Presbyteries of West Jersey and Burlington.

From the office in Louisville, the Rev. E. T. Baird has been employed, during a portion of the year, in the Synods south of the Ohio river; and the Rev. J. H. Gill, in the Synods north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi rivers. The Rev. Joshua F. Green was also employed, for a part of the year, and until his lamented decease, in the Synod of Arkansas.

We have reason to believe that the Agents of the Board have diligently and faithfully performed their important duties. Some of them have not been able to collect as much money as formerly, owing to causes already mentioned; yet they have done, in other respects, good service to the cause. Some of our Agents have performed a great amount of missionary work—exploring new fields, and preaching the gospel in many destitute places. One of them, to whom allusion was made in our last Annual Report, has continued to be eminently useful in assisting pastors at many protracted meetings, and in several revivals of religion. And it is worthy of special observation, that the contributions of the churches in which revivals of religion have been enjoyed, have been greatly augmented; so true it is, that the spirit of active piety and of Christian benevolence are inseparable; and that the surest way to call the latter into exercise, is to cultivate and strengthen the former.

IMPORTANCE OF DOMESTIC MISSIONS.

Although the objects of the Board of Missions have been repeatedly stated in the Annual Reports, and are, perhaps, generally understood, it may not be amiss to re-state them. The objects of the Board are two-fold:—1. To supply vacant churches and assist weak and feeble congregations in the support of pastors; and, 2. To extend the boundaries of the Church, by employing ministers to preach the gospel, organize new congregations, and form churches in the hitherto neglected and waste places of our country.

Hundreds of our churches are so weak and feeble, that it would be impossible for them to maintain their pastors without aid from others. Besides these weak congregations, there were no less than six hundred and ninety-six churches connected with our denomination, which were reported to the last General Assembly as vacant; that is, without pastors or stated supplies. And in addition to both these classes of weak and vacant churches, there are thousands of places, scattered throughout our widely extended country, which are destitute of evangelical ministers, and which must be supplied, if supplied at all, by those who already enjoy and appreciate the blessings of the gospel.

How immensely important it is, that these spiritual destitutions should be adequately and speedily supplied. The salvation of millions now perishing in ignorance and sin, and the future prosperity of the Church and the nation, imperatively require it. Without the gospel, men cannot be saved from everlasting ruin; and the establishment throughout our land of evangelical churches and Christian institutions, is absolutely indispensable to our national prosperity not only, but even to our continued existence as a republican and Christian people. To the gospel, under God, are we indebted for all our individual, social, civil, political and religious privileges and blessings. The security of our lives—the sanctity of our homes—the safety of our estates—our political and religious freedom—are all fruits of the gospel, and can only be perpetuated by its conservative and heavenly influence. But great as are the temporal advantages which the gospel secures to individuals and nations, they are nothing, and less than nothing, when compared with the spiritual evils from which it delivers the souls of men, and the everlasting blessings which it secures to all who embrace it.

We have said that it is important to supply the spiritual destitutions in our land, not only adequately, but speedily. There are immense advantages in sending evangelical ministers into new and growing communities, before they are pre-occupied by the teachers of infidelity, superstition, and false religion. In many cases, the loss of a few months precludes the possibility of establishing an evangelical church in such communities for years; and then, not without a much larger expenditure of time and means than would have been necessary at the first.

The Board continues to receive the most earnest and affecting appeals for missionary aid. From the North and the South, from the East and the West, the Macedonian cry is raised, "Come over and help us!" Ah! how sadly do they describe their spiritual wants—how urgently and imploringly do they entreat us to supply them with the priceless blessing of an evangelical, intelligent, and faithful ministry!

The spiritual destitutions of our land are increasing, and will continue to increase, with the expansion of our country and the augmentation of our population. Since the formation of our National Government, our area has been more than trebled; so that our country now extends from the British possessions on the North, to the mouth of the Rio Grande on the South; and from the Atlantic Ocean on the east, to the Pacific Ocean on the West; an area of about three millions five hundred thousand square miles!

In 1850, according to the census then taken, the total population of our country was a little over twenty-three millions; and now we estimate it at between twenty-five and twenty-six millions. In 1870, we will probably number thirty-nine millions. In 1890, we will probably number seventy-four millions. And in 1900, the population of this country will probably exceed one hundred millions! If we should annex no more territory than what we now have, the present area of the United States is capable of sustaining six hundred millions! What a country! What an immensity of territory! What a population for missionary enterprise!

Here are millions speaking our own language, and in some measure acquainted with and favourable to the Christian religion. Our missionaries have not to spend years of wasting toil in acquiring foreign tongues, nor have they to encounter the formidable prejudices of the heathen against the gospel of our Saviour. Here is no loss of caste to be apprehended by Christian converts—banishment from family relatives and social friends—the confiscation of property—and the destruction of life itself. Our domestic missionaries have access at once to the minds of the great mass of our countrymen, who know that their temporal, as well as eternal welfare, would be promoted by their possessing and professing the religion of our Saviour. Here is a population, the most free, intelligent, and enterprising upon earth, whose political government and religious and social institutions are exerting a powerful influence throughout Christendom—a nation, whose example and power will soon be felt, either for good or evil, throughout the habitable world. There is not on the surface of the earth, so important, so promising a missionary field. It is our duty to send the gospel to every part of the globe, for so our divine Master has commanded. But how important even to this end, is the thorough evangelization of this vast country? And what a deep and peculiar interest have we and our posterity in the establishment of evangelical churches and Christian institutions throughout our own land? Without this, our children, or children's children, might themselves become enshrouded in the darkness of pagan superstition, and plunged in all the degradation and misery which now characterize and afflict the heathen world!

While speaking of the facilities with which the great mass of our countrymen are reached and influenced by our missionaries, we do not forget that there are hundreds of thousands among us who do not understand our language; and multitudes of immigrants, who, though they speak our tongue, are yet, by reason of their religious prejudices, almost as inaccessible as those who do not comprehend our language. This foreign population, already numbering several millions, is augmenting at the rate of more than a thousand every day. Multitudes of these foreign immigrants are infidel in sentiment, and their political and social opinions are dangerous to our civil and moral institutions. Thousands of other immigrants profess the papal superstition, and are equally hostile and dangerous to our republican government and Protestant religion. The example and influence of these infidel and Popish foreigners have already been felt in many parts of our country, and various measures have been suggested and resorted to, to counteract their pernicious and destructive influence. We are quite sure that, without the gospel of Christ, all other means will prove ineffectual; and therefore it is our earnest desire, as it manifestly is our urgent duty, to endeavour to bring them, as speedily as possible, under its restraining and transforming power. It is due to many Protestant immigrants who annually come to our shores, to say, that they are exemplary in their lives, and add to our ecclesiastical and religious strength.

During the past year, the Board have employed twelve missionaries whose labours have been chiefly confined to our foreign population, viz: One among the French, one among the Italians, two among the Welch, and eight among the Germans.

In this connection we may also state, that during the past year, the Board have employed three missionaries whose labours have been either wholly or chiefly confined to the coloured population:—one in each of the cities of New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore. Many of our missionaries in the South and Southwest, devote a portion of their time in preaching to the coloured people; and from their reports, we have reason to believe that their labours have been, in many instances, highly useful. The Board highly approve of such labours, and would recommend to our missionaries to avail themselves of every suitable opportunity to preach the gospel to them. Some Christian planters have applied to the Board for ministers for this purpose, and have liberally offered to support them, while preaching to their slaves, and attending to the education of their own children; but we have not been able to procure the men. To some, such situations, if known, might be desirable; and we mention it, in order that any who choose, may seek and obtain more definite information on the subject, by correspondence with the Board. When we recollect that there are more than three millions of slaves in the United States, it is obvious that attention should be given by our Church to this class of our population; and as our conservative views are known and appreciated at the South, with wise and prudent measures, a vast amount of good might, with the blessing of God, be effected among them.

PROGRESS MADE BY OUR CHURCH IN THE MISSIONARY WORK.

Although much more might have been accomplished by our Church, than has been effected, if our people had more generally, actively and liberally co-operated in this great and important work, yet a vast amount of good, by the blessing of God, has been accomplished in this department of labour by our branch of the Church of Christ, through the agency of the Board of Missions; and for which we ought to be sincerely and earnestly grateful. In order to show the progress that has been made, we submit the following statements.

In 1828, the year of the re-organization of the Board, there were but 31 missionaries, and an income of $2,400 only.

In 1840, two years after the division of the Church, and when the parts were fairly separated, there were 256 missionaries, and an income of $40,734.

The following table will show the progress that has been made in the last three years. The figures in the first line of the table, are derived from the last report under the preceding administration of the Board.

Year.	Number of missionaries.	Individual donations and legacies.	Contributions from churches.	Total receipts.	Amount appropriated to the missionaries.
1852-3,	515	$24,200.00	$57,255.33	$81,455.33	$56,911.08
1853-4,	523	11,995.47	63,212.33	75,207.80	75,421.92
1854-5,	525	9,168.44	62,666.03	71,834.47	74,494.42

The following table will show how steadily and wonderfully our beloved Church has, by the blessing of her adorable Head, increased and expanded;—and let it be understood that this increase and expansion were mainly effected by the instrumentality of her Board of Missions. We will begin with 1828, the year of the re-organization of the Board.

Year.	Synods.	Presbyteries.	Ministers.	Churches.	Members.
1828,	16,	90,	1,285,	1,968,	146,308.
1830,	19,	98,	1,491,	2,158,	173,329.
1840,*	17,	95,	1,615,	1,673,	126,583.
1850,	23,	127,	1,926,	2,595,	207,254.
1854,	28,	146,	2,203,	2,976,	225,404.

It thus appears that since the re-organization of the Board, we have increased 12 Synods, 56 Presbyteries, 918 ministers, 1,008 churches, and 79,096 members. Since 1840, two years after the division of the Church, we have increased 11 Synods, 51 Presbyteries, 588 ministers, 1,303 churches, and 98,821 members.

Notwithstanding these favourable results, we have great cause for humiliation and sorrow that we have not, as a Church, accomplished as much as, by the blessing of God, we might and ought to have effected. The territory yet to be supplied with the preaching of the gospel is immense, and the resources of our people are vast and constantly increasing. We have come far short of the measure of our duty, and should feel that, compared with what is yet to be done, we have accomplished but little. And yet we are not to despise the day of small things, nor should we refrain from humbly and gratefully acknowledging what God has done by and for us.

The facts above stated are certainly encouraging, and call for thanksgiving and praise to Him from whom alone cometh the increase. They should not only elicit our gratitude and call forth our praise to God, but they ought to stimulate and encourage us to greater activity, liberality, and prayer.

In view of what God has done for us, may we not be assured that, with greater zeal on our part, he would more richly bless our efforts to build up and extend his Church?*

* The following interesting and important statistics are taken from the May number of the Foreign Missionary.

"In our last issue, statistics were given to show the ratio of increase in the number of inhabitants and in the number of Evangelical Ministers in this land. We have since met with later returns of two churches than those taken from the American Almanac, which make the whole number of Evangelical Ministers 26,252, instead of 25,427, in 1854—being one minister to every 988 souls, instead of 1020. If later returns were accessible from all the churches, we have no doubt they would make the supply of ministers greater than this.

We wish now to add some statistics relative to Presbyterian ministers and the population in 1832, and the two divisions of the same body in 1843 and 1854.

RELATIVE NUMBER OF PRESBYTERIAN PREACHERS, OLD AND NEW-SCHOOL.

In 1843—1	"	" 6278 "
In 1854—1	"	" 6308 "

RELATIVE NUMBER OF PRESBYTERIAN PREACHERS, OLD-SCHOOL.

In 1843—1	Preacher to every	11,607 souls.
In 1854—1	"	" 10,645 "

Or thus :

Increase of population from 1843 to 1854,	.	.	.	38 per cent.
Increase of Old-school Presbyterian Preachers, from 1843 to 1854,	.	.	.	50 per cent.

GENERAL COMPARATIVE INCREASE.

Increase of population from 1832 to 1854,	.	.	.	88 per cent.

" " Presbyterian Preachers, Old and New-school, from 1832 to 1854,	.	.	.	107 per cent.

These statistics show clearly that the Church of Christ is more than keeping pace with the population of this country. It is outrunning that population, wonderful as has been the increase of our inhabitants. Our own branch of the Church has no reason to be discouraged in view of these returns. In the period of the most rapid growth of our popu-

DEMAND FOR MISSIONARIES.

The Board have received during the year, from every section of our Church, numerous and urgent calls for missionaries to supply vacant churches and to gather new congregations in important and promising fields. To the extent of our ability we have promptly and cordially responded to these calls for ministers; but, owing to the want of men, we have not been able to meet the demands that have been made upon us. The brethren sometimes write as if the Board could furnish any number of men that may be wanted, and seem to think that we have the power of making an equable distribution of ministers throughout the whole field. Some occasionally express surprise and disappointment that the promising fields which they had recommended to the Board, have not, as yet, been furnished with missionaries. Some in the South and Southwest appear to think that the Board send an undue proportion of missionaries to the West and Northwest; while others in these latter sections seem to think that we send too many to the South and Southwest. It should be remembered, however, that the Board of Missions cannot increase the number of existing ministers, and can do no more than commission all that are within their reach; and that we have no power or right to remove ministers from one section of the country to another, without their consent. Moreover, nearly all the missionaries that are appointed by the Board, reside within the bounds of the Presbyteries by whom they are recommended, and they are appointed to such churches and stations only as are indicated by their respective Presbyteries. The number of ministers sent out by the Board to distant fields, without the previous recommendation of the Presbyteries within whose limits they are to labour, is very few; and then they are always directed to report themselves on their arrival to the Presbytery or its standing committee, in order that they may be by them properly and usefully located. The greater part of this small class express their preference for some particular section, and would not be willing to go to any other. All that the Board can do in such cases, is to furnish the applicants with information respecting the wants of various parts of the country, and to advise them to go where their services are most needed, and where they would probably be the most useful; but we cannot compel men to go where they are not willing to go. In the very few instances in which the applicants for appointments express their willingness to go wherever the Board think they can be the most useful, our endeavour is always to exercise a sound discretion, and without the lation, the number of our Ministers and Licentiates has gained 12 per cent. on the population! We consider this to be a fact of deep interest.

This Christian land has 3,410,000 Communicants in Evangelical Churches out of its 18,582,000 inhabitants over ten years of age. It has 26,252 Ministers of Evangelical Churches, or one to every 988 souls; or, infant children deducted, to a still smaller number. Its ministers in twenty-two years have increased 175 per cent., while its population has increased but 88 per cent.

slightest sectional partiality, to send them where we think they are most needed.

The greatest difficulty under which the Board has laboured and is still labouring, is the deficiency of Ministers—the supply being utterly inadequate to the demand—and this difficulty will undoubtedly increase, unless the Lord of the harvest will raise up many more labourers. As we desire, in view of the great demand for missionaries, to bring this subject more distinctly to the notice of the churches, we will cite the following statistics and remarks, which were published in the April number of the Home and Foreign Record, by the Secretaries of the Board of Education, and who it is presumed are accurately informed upon a matter which belongs especially to their department:

“The number of students in the several Theological Seminaries under the care of the General Assembly, or otherwise connected with the Presbyterian Church, (as nearly as we can ascertain,) is as follows:

Princeton, New Jersey, . . . . .	115
Allegheny, Pennsylvania, . . . . .	51
Union Seminary, Virginia, . . . . .	29
Columbia, South Carolina, . . . . .	32
New Albany, Indiana, . . . . .	19
Danville, Kentucky, . . . . .	37

“We have official information that 4 are studying theology under private instruction; and it is highly probable that there are 12 or 15 others who are not officially reported. Supposing the whole number in Seminaries and elsewhere to be 300, the annual supply of ministers in our Church for the next three years will be about 100. In the Minutes of the last Assembly 41 ministers are reported as having died during the year; which is probably not a greater number than the average of deaths which may be expected to occur for three years to come. This will make our actual annual increase of ministers for the next three years about 60. From 1853 to 1854 the number of churches had increased by 97; which was less than may be anticipated hereafter, considering the constant increase of population, and the opening of new fields for missionary labour. But without any greater increase than heretofore, there will probably be 40 more new churches added to our communion annually than the number of licensures which will be granted to candidates. Unless, therefore, there is a great error in our calculations, or unless additional ministers shall come to us from other lands, the deficiency of ministers compared with the number of churches will be greater three years hence than it is now, to say nothing concerning the foreign field, which calls most urgently for a large increase of labourers, but the consideration of which makes our prospective deficiency of ministers still greater compared with the supply. Our increase of candidates in Colleges and Academies affords some relief to this discouraging state of things, but this relief is not immediate."

It has been suggested that one reason why so few devote themselves to the sacred office, is because the ministry is so inadequately supported, and it has been proposed, by some, to augment the salaries of the missionaries in order to increase their number. It is probable that even some good men may have been deterred from entering the ministry from the fear that they would not be adequately provided for; and that some in the sacred office have resorted to secular pursuits in order to secure a more comfortable provision for themselves and families. It is also true that the churches could and ought to provide more liberally for the support of their ministers. But it is believed to be utterly impracticable for the Board of Missions to increase the salaries of missionaries to such an extent as materially to affect the number of candidates for the ministry. Neither would it be lawful nor expedient, if it were financially practicable, so to augment the salaries of missionaries as to make their pecuniary compensation a motive for entering the ministry. An addition of one or two hundred dollars to the average salary of the missionaries would scarcely be sufficient to produce any extensive effect of this kind, and yet even such an addition, with our present number of missionaries, would require an annual increase in the resources of the Board of $50,000 or $100,000!

Our firm conviction is, that the deficiency of ministers is owing to the low state of religion in our churches generally, and nothing, in our opinion, but powerful and extensive revivals of religion can remedy this serious and growing evil. If the churches, in answer to prayer, were visited as in times past with the special outpourings of the Spirit, hundreds of young men, despite every earthly sacrifice, would devote themselves to the work of the ministry and count it an honour to suffer, if need be, for Christ their Saviour's sake. But until the Holy Spirit is thus poured out, in answer to the supplications of the people of God, there will continue to be a growing deficiency of ministers, and your Board of Missions will be less and less able to meet the increasing demands that are made upon them for missionaries.

SALARIES OF MISSIONARIES.

Notwithstanding the great falling off in the current receipts of the Board in the West, and the fact that the current receipts in the East but little more than held their own, the Board, during the past year, not only continued the advanced average appropriations to the missionaries of the year preceding, but actually increased them $10.37. This the Board felt justified in doing, on account of the balance which remained in hand at the commencement of the fiscal year, and in view of the recommendation and assurance of the last General Assembly.

The following table will show the advance that has been made during the last two years. The average appropriation by the Board is exact:—the average amount received by the missionaries from their people, is derived from reports received from the missionaries.*

Year.	Average appropriation by the Board.	Average amount paid by their people.	Average total amount of salary.
1853,	$132.00	$240.00	$372.00
1854,	152.00	251.00	403.00
1855,	162.00	273.00	435.00

This increase of the average salary of the missionaries has afforded the Board sincere pleasure, as we have reason to believe that it has greatly relieved our missionaries; and if the Board possessed the means, they would gladly add to the salaries of some who are still inadequately supported. But the practical question now is, can this be done? Can the Board even continue the present scale of appropriations for any length of time, without a considerable increase in the contributions of the churches? We unhesitatingly answer, no. But for the balance in hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, the Board would have been obliged, during the past year, either to reduce the appropriations, or run in debt. And as that balance has been greatly reduced, it will be impracticable to continue much beyond this year the present salaries of the missionaries, unless the resources of the Board are greatly augmented. At the close of the fiscal year, the balance in hand was not much more than equal to pay the amount then actually due to the missionaries. The Assembly itself in recommending a further increase of the salaries of the missionaries, clearly recognized the necessity of increased contributions on the part of the churches, and expressed their assurance that the Board might fully rely upon them. The resolution of the Assembly is as follows, viz.

“Resolved, That this Assembly, whilst deprecating any wasteful or unnecessary expenditure of Domestic Missionary funds, would express particular approval of the conduct of the Board in increasing, as they have done, the salaries of missionaries in the field. The Assembly would express further the assurance that the Board may proceed to a much larger increase in the allowance to their missionaries, fully relying on the justice and liberality of our people to supply the Board with such an increase of means as will enable it to lessen, to some extent, the privations now endured by our brethren; and while the Assembly express thus decidedly their view of the duty of the Board, they would most earnestly exhort the churches to greatly increased exertions to meet the increased demands on the funds of the Board which must result from any attempt to do justice to our missionary brethren.”—(See Minutes, 1854, p. 35.)

But notwithstanding these assurances and earnest exhortations by the Assembly to the churches, the aggregate receipts of the Board, during the year, have been less instead of more.

By a resolution of a former Assembly, the Board are instructed that “there ought to be no anticipation of the funds in future; or, in other words, that appropriations ought not to be made in any year, beyond the amount which the funds arising in that year will be sufficient to satisfy.”

In view of these facts, the Board would respectfully ask the advice and assistance of the General Assembly. Shall the Board continue their appropriations, with the certainty that, unless the receipts are increased, they must ultimately run in debt? Or shall the Board be instructed to reduce the appropriations, unless the current receipts are adequate to meet their liabilities? Or will the Assembly again advise the Board to go forward, relying upon the justice and liberality of our people to supply them with an adequate increase of means, and adopt such measures as will secure the requisite augmentation of funds?

The Board would again express their conviction that the average salary of the missionaries ought to be, if practicable, continued, if not still further advanced. The greater number of the missionaries are but barely supported, and some of them are not yet adequately sustained. But however much the missionaries may need their present appropriations, or require them to be increased, and however much the Board may wish to afford them the aid they require, it is obviously impracticable for the Board to furnish assistance beyond their available means.

The Board would also express the opinion, in this connection, that the churches and congregations to which our missionaries minister, could and ought to do much more for the support of their ministers. If their people had increased their salaries in proportion to the advance made by the Board, many of our missionaries who are not now adequately supported would be comfortably provided for. While the Board have advanced their average appropriation, within the last two years \$30, their people have advanced only \$33; in other words, while the increase of the Board has been nearly 23 per cent., that of their people has been only  $13\frac{3}{4}$  per cent. Some of the churches have recently increased the salaries of their ministers, and deserve to be commended for their justice and liberality; but the number of such churches, served by our missionaries, is small indeed. Unless the missionary churches generally shall give more to their pastors, it will be found impracticable to afford that measure of support which the ministers are justly entitled to, and which is indispensable to their comfort not only, but also highly important to their usefulness. In some cases we have reason to fear, that the advance made by the Board does not really increase the aggregate salary of the missionary; for the more the Board appropriate, the less the people contribute towards his support! These facts should be distinctly impressed upon both ministers and churches receiving missionary aid. It is idle to expect the Board of Missions alone to remedy fully the evil of an inadequate ministerial support. Their people must do their part, or the missionaries must continue to suffer.

NEED OF FUNDS.

In view of the present state of our treasury, and the greatly increased demands which will be made upon the Board during this year, will not the churches more generally and liberally contribute to this vitally important cause? After all, it rests with our people to say, whether the Board of Missions shall be able to sustain the missions which they now have, and go forward in establishing others where they are so urgently needed, or whether they shall be compelled to refuse new appointments, and actually reduce the number and compensation of the missionaries now employed. How immense is the territory yet unoccupied! How many important centres of influence are yet unsupplied! How impossible it will be to maintain the missionaries where they are now located, if the amount of aid now furnished by the Board should be withdrawn, or even reduced. How inadequately as yet are some of the missionaries supported, and how important it is both for their comfort and usefulness, that their meagre salaries should be increased, instead of being diminished. And yet, without a large increase in the contributions of the churches, the Board will be obliged ultimately, however reluctantly and painfully on their part, to restrict their operations within narrower limits, and reduce their missionary appropriations.

As previously stated, when the last General Assembly recommended the Board to advance still further their appropriations to the missionaries, they did so with the assurance that the Board might rely upon the justice and liberality of our people to supply the funds necessary to meet such an increase of expense. But, as we have already stated, the aggregate receipts of the Board, during the past year, instead of being larger, have been less than the year preceding. It is true, the falling off has been in the West, and in consequence of the extensive failure of the crops in that section of our country, and the small increase in the East, was probably occasioned by the commercial difficulties and monetary pressure of the times. But no matter what may have been the cause of the diminution of our aggregate receipts, the pecuniary effect upon the Board has been no less real and embarrassing; and the necessity for enlarged contributions, this year, no less imperative.

We are aware that some complain of the frequency and urgency of such calls upon their justice and liberality, but are not such complaints unreasonable? If the claims of benevolence are numerous and pressing, must they not be presented and urged with frequency and zeal? But after all, the objects proposed by the Church are very few; and if the applications for money are too numerous, the Church is not responsible for it, and her institutions ought not to be allowed to suffer on that account. We commend to all the consideration of the following statistics and suggestive remarks, furnished by one of our correspondents, and published in the April number of the Home and Foreign Record:

“It is admitted by all Christians that they are stewards of God, holding their property in trust from him, and they ought to use a portion of it in promoting his cause. It should not, then, be an occasion of complaint, that the contribution of money for religious uses is a part of the business of every congregation. Yet it is often said that the calls are too numerous, that the financial duties are made too prominent, and are urged with undue importunity. I have no doubt that it really appears so, even to some intelligent and liberal minds. But the system of benevolence of our Church is not open to this objection. The calls of our Church, for the general efforts of benevolence, are only four or five in the year. The striking disparity between the calls and the favourable responses might rather suggest the conviction that the latter are too few; that considerations of duty, with regard to money, are unduly neglected.

"The reports to the last General Assembly [1854] show that of our 2,868 congregations, contributions were made to Domestic Missions	by 1,322,	being 112 less than half.

Foreign	" " 1,063,	" 341 " "
Education,	" 749,	" 30 more than a fourth.
Publication,	" 440,	" 37 less than a sixth.

Or it may be exhibited thus, for Domestic Missions,	1,322 contributed,	1,546 did not.

Foreign	" 1,063	" 1,805
Education,	749	" 2,119
Publication,	440	" 2,448

"Again, as a summary of the whole of the 11,472 collections asked by the General Assembly, only 3,574 were made, while 7,898 were omitted. It is a fair and solemn question for the conscience of the Church, of her ministers and people, to consider whether the 'calls' are too many, or the answers too few.

"But I will not do the congregations injustice. They have made many contributions besides those which I have mentioned. The Church has become a financial agent, not only for her own, but for many other interests. It is the calls of these, added to her own, that makes them appear so crowded and clamorous. Applications have, in some cases, to be put on file, to come up in succession at respectable intervals. And thus our church collections have to take their turn and chance with the rest; and we sometimes have to be content with 'e pluribus unum'—one out of the many that the interests of the Lord, in the Church's hand, require. I do not call in question the worthiness of other objects, nor the right or obligation of people to support them; but it seems rather hard that the wise and benevolent enterprises of our Church should be crippled by such displacement. Other contributions, in addition to these, and not to their exclusion, would better comport with the financial agency of the Church in Christ's cause.

"Allow me the further to illustrate our last year's contributions, to give just a glance at those of the Free Church of Scotland, our noble Presbyterian brethren. They have 737 congregations, and six regular collections are appointed by the General Assembly, for the year. Of these 4,422 collections, only 123 failed last year! If we had come up to their measure of faithfulness, we should have had 11,175 collections, instead of 3,574. Their failures were hardly three per cent., while ours approach closely to the startling ratio of sixty-nine per cent."

The foregoing statistics are mortifying and painful in the extreme; and we have reason to apprehend that the number of non-contributing churches, during the past year, will be found to have been no less than the year preceeding—perhaps more numerous. More than one-half of our churches contributing nothing to the cause of missions! Where does the fault lie? Can it be possible that in all these non-contributing churches the pastors and elders afforded the people an opportunity to contribute, and urged upon them the duty of giving, and yet the people declined to contribute anything? If the cause was not even presented to these delinquent churches, how fearful is the responsibility of their pastors and sessions! How will they be able to answer for their official negligence in the day of judgment? We are amazed that so large a number of churches should prove thus deficient in duty from year to year, notwithstanding the appeals that have been made to them by the Board for assistance—the repeated and earnest exhortations and injunctions of the General Assembly—the wants of millions perishing in their ignorance and sin—and the imperative commands of their divine Lord!

But the past is beyond recall. What shall be done in future? Will not the officers of these churches see to it, that their people shall at least have an opportunity of contributing? Will they not faithfully discharge their own official and personal duty, by presenting the cause and urging its claims upon the justice and liberality of their congregations? And will not the people respond cheerfully and generously to such appeals? Consider, dear brethren, your personal obligations and duties. Have you not been indebted to Providence for all the means that you possess? If truly the children of God, have you not been indebted to Christ for salvation? Contemplate the miserable condition of millions who are destitute as yet of the means of grace, and who, without the gospel, must perish for ever. Reflect upon the instability of earthly treasure—the uncertainty of human life—and the solemn account which you will have to render to God for the use which you have made of all your talents. Remember, “there is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, and it tendeth to poverty:” and that your eternal reward will be in proportion to the measure of your fidelity. “He that soweth sparingly, shall also reap sparingly; and he that soweth bountifully, shall also reap bountifully.”

But while we feel it to be our duty thus to appeal to those who have not hitherto contributed anything to the cause, in the hope that they may be stirred up to their duty, we know from experience that our dependence, under God, must be mainly upon those intelligent, conscientious and generous Christians who have heretofore contributed. To such we appeal with confidence; and with grateful acknowledgments for past assistance in carrying on this great and blessed work, we ask them not only to continue their aid, but, if possible, to augment their contributions largely during the present year. We will not repeat in this connection what has been already said, respecting the present state of our treasury and the largely increased demands that will be made upon us during this year. We only ask you to consider prayerfully the facts that have been presented in this Report, and to act in accordance with your sense of privilege and duty. Many of you have given liberally to the cause and some munificently. God has graciously rewarded you for your liberality, and will still more richly recompense you in the world of glory. "Be not weary in well doing." God has greatly prospered the cause of missions in our country, through your liberality; and if you continue your generous co-operation and fervent prayers, He will still more highly prosper it. Now is the time for vigorous and extended effort—withhold not the means which you know to be indispensable for the proper and successful prosecution of this great and blessed work.

PRESBYTERIES AND CHURCHES RECEIVING AID.

The Board would respectfully call the attention of Presbyteries to the duty of examining carefully every application that is made to them by their churches for missionary aid. This duty is at all times obligatory and important, but more especially so when the receipts of the Board are not equal to their disbursements. In the present state of the treasury and the large liabilities which the Board have assumed, it is indispensable that more than ordinary care should be taken that no unnecessary appropriation be recommended by the Presbyteries, and no one of greater amount than is absolutely needed. There is reason to fear that some of the Presbyteries have not examined as carefully as they should have done, the applications that have been made to them for missionary aid, and have in some instances recommended the appropriation of larger sums than were, under the circumstances, proper or necessary. In all cases Presbyteries should satisfy themselves, by a thorough inquiry into the circumstances of the churches applying for aid, whether they do really need assistance from the missionary fund, and particularly whether the amount asked for is actually requisite.

Such thorough investigation on the part of Presbyteries is specially demanded, when the churches applying for aid ask for the same amount of assistance, notwithstanding they have been receiving such aid from the Board for many years. Is it proper that the Presbyteries should recommend the same appropriations to such churches, without a searching inquiry into their condition and prospects? If some of these churches could, with proper effort on their part, do without any further aid from the Board, and many of them could do with less than they have been receiving, is it not injurious to them, and manifestly unjust to others, that they should be allowed to continue to draw upon the Board, or receive as much as they still ask for? Already the number of churches which have been receiving the same, or nearly the same amount of aid annually for many years, and that too without any prospect of improvement, is very great, and they consume a very large portion of the missionary funds. If the number of such churches is suffered to go on increasing from year to year, the Board will not be able to sustain them, much less to establish and support new missions where they are so much needed, and would soon become not only self-sustaining, but contributing. This is a very serious matter, and the Presbyteries ought to examine it carefully and deal with it wisely and faithfully.

It is believed that some of the weak and feeble churches, which have made no progress towards self-sustentation, and have no prospect of ever becoming self-sustaining, might, and ought to be united with neighbouring churches, so as to reduce their expense to the Board, and lessen the number of ministers by which they are at present served. This economy, both of men and means, is imperatively required by the demand for missionaries in other and more promising fields and the state of the treasury. The Board has repeatedly urged this subject upon the attention of the Presbyteries, and the last General Assembly particularly recommended and enjoined such action.

The Board would suggest that if the Presbyteries would appoint committees to visit all their missionary churches, from time to time, and to exert their influence with them to induce them to contribute more liberally towards the support of their pastors, many churches would require less assistance from the Board, and their ministers would be far better sustained than they now are.

We rejoice to be able to say, that some of our missionary churches have, during the past year, become self-sustaining. Some of these churches have made great efforts to support the Gospel among themselves without further assistance from the Board; and they will no doubt find that in doing so they have promoted their own true interests, as well as discharged their duty towards others, who are in greater need of assistance than they.

But ought not the number of such churches to have been much more numerous? How many others might have become self-sustaining, if they had made the requisite effort? We appeal to all such, whether it is not sinful to continue to ask for and receive aid from the missionary fund, when with suitable exertion to help themselves, they could do without it? Can such churches reasonably expect the divine blessing? Can they expect to prosper while they remain thus remiss in duty? May not such injustice towards others more needy than themselves be the very reason why their condition is not more prosperous and promising? The Board would earnestly request all their missionary churches, and more especially such as have been for years receiving aid, seriously to inquire, before they renew their application for further assistance, whether they could not, with proper self-denial and effort on their part, dispense with it entirely? And if they cannot themselves wholly support their pastors, let them inquire whether they could not do with a less amount than they have hitherto received from the missionary fund and yet support their pastors as well?

But while we insist upon these things as plain matters of duty and necessity, the Board do not wish to be understood as discouraging applications for aid by churches which really need assistance, however long they may have been receiving aid. All that we desire is, that every church should do as much as they can for the support of the gospel among themselves, and should endeavour to become, as fast and as fully as practicable, a self-sustaining and contributing church. We have no doubt that some feeble churches are so situated that they could not be united with any other, and that they must continue to receive, from year to year, the same amount of missionary aid, or they would soon become extinct. But this only renders it the more important and necessary, that all the weak churches that can be united with others, should be so associated, and that appropriations should be reduced whenever practicable.

DUTIES OF MISSIONARIES.

We are mortified and grieved to be obliged to inform the Assembly, that a very large number, 179, of our missionaries have, as usual, neglected to forward their Annual Statistical Reports. In addition to the appeal which was made to them in our last Annual Report, special efforts were made towards the close of the missionary year, to induce them to make their reports, in order that the Board might furnish the Assembly, with greater accuracy and completeness, the statistical information which they expect and desire. Such continued negligence on the part of so many of our missionaries is discreditable to them, and injurious to the Board itself. We respectfully suggest, whether it ought not to be made the duty of Presbyteries to call such delinquents to an account for their remissness, and censure them for their negligence, unless they can assign a satisfactory reason for their neglect of this duty? Ought not the Presbyteries, at least, to inquire, when applications are before them for the re-appointment of missionaries, whether they have sent their statistical reports to the Board? and if they have not, to urge upon them the importance of doing so hereafter? Or will not the missionaries themselves, from a sense of personal and official duty, and without any extraneous influence, resolve to send in their statistical reports hereafter, that the Assembly may thus receive the valuable information which can be derived in no other way?

The Board would also call the attention of the missionaries under the care of the Western Executive Committee, to the rule which requires them to send quarterly reports to the office in Philadelphia.*

* The following resolution was adopted by the Board, June 30th, 1845, viz:

"Resolved, That the missionaries of the Board under the supervision of the Committee at Louisville, be directed to send to the Secretary of the Committee at Louisville, a duplicate of each quarterly report to the Board. These missionaries are expected, ac-

Very few of the missionaries comply with this rule, and the consequence is, that the Board are deprived of much valuable information respecting the wants and prospects of the missionary churches in that part of the field. If the missionaries would furnish such quarterly reports, the Board might, in many cases, avail themselves of the information thus furnished to promote the comfort and usefulness of the missionaries themselves, and advance the general interests of our Church in those large and growing sections of our country. Besides, from such reports, selections might be made, from time to time, for the Home and Foreign Record, which would not only add much interest to that paper, but prove instrumental in directing and attracting ministers who are seeking places where their services are most needed, and where there is the greatest prospect of success.

In their last Annual Report, the Board took occasion to offer some remarks on the duty of all our missionaries to afford their people an opportunity to contribute to the missionary fund of the Church, and to use their best endeavours to induce them to give according to their ability. We rejoice in being able to say, that many of our missionaries have faithfully discharged their duties in these respects, and that the amount contributed by some of the missionary churches has been greatly increased. Still there are very many missionaries who have reported no collection for the Board during the past year, notwithstanding they have received the same aid from the Board as heretofore, and in some cases even larger appropriations. How so many of our missionaries can continue to neglect this duty is inexplicable to us. No obligation can be more obvious than that of training the people to benevolence. No duty is more plainly scriptural. And is it not a matter of sheer justice, that those who are receiving assistance from the Board, should do what they can to replenish the treasury from which they are deriving their own supplies? The Board would again, and with increased earnestness, exhort all their missionaries to afford their people an opportunity of contributing during the present year, and to invite them to give what they can, whether it be much or little, that every church assisted by the Board may in some measure, at least, discharge their duty, and aid in the further prosecution of the great work of missions. If each church would contribute but a little, the aggregate amount would be very considerable.

Although constrained by a sense of duty to speak plainly of the delinquencies of many of our missionaries, the Board take great pleasure in stating that many others in commission have faithfully discharged their duties. And many who have been remiss in some cording to the instructions in their commission, to send regular quarterly reports to the Board, as heretofore, and in addition, under the present regulation, they are directed to send at the same time, copies of these reports to the Committee at Louisville, to enable that Committee to keep their accounts. The missionaries within that agency will receive their pay from the Treasury at Louisville, on orders of that Committee."

things, have rendered, in other respects, good service to the cause of Christ. Indeed, we fondly trust that all have been more or less useful, according to their abilities and opportunities. We know that many of our missionary brethren have great difficulties to contend with and severe trials to endure. They have our sincere affection and lively sympathy; and our great desire is to promote their comfort and usefulness. Our constant prayer is, that in all things they may be faithful, and that God may crown their arduous and self-denying labours with abundant success.

CHANGE OF THE FISCAL YEAR.

The Board have found it necessary to resolve that, hereafter, their fiscal year shall terminate at the same time that their missionary year now ends. Heretofore, while the missionary reports were made up to the 1st of March, the cash accounts were not closed until the 1st of April. This may be the reason why many of the missionaries have forwarded their reports at so late a period, that we could not include the information contained in them in our Statistical Tables. But the principal reason for the change, and that which has rendered it necessary is, that the accounts from the distant Presbyterian Treasuries cannot otherwise be received in season for the Annual Report of the Board to the General Assembly. One of these accounts, this year, was not received at the office in Philadelphia, until some time after the middle of April. As the Annual Report of the Board is mainly based upon the state of the Treasury at the close of the year, and as some time is indispensable for the deliberate and careful preparation and review of it, the Board have judged it necessary to terminate their fiscal year hereafter on the 1st of March;—so that the missionary reports and the pecuniary accounts will be made up to the same date.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, the Board desire to call the attention of our people to the importance of more earnest prayer for the divine blessing upon all our efforts to build up and extend the kingdom of Christ. We have shown the importance and necessity of more general and liberal contributions on the part of the churches in the further prosecution of the missionary work, and have urged the obligation of such liberality upon all, as God hath prospered them; but it is far more important and necessary that Christians should more earnestly, believingly and perseveringly pray for the influence of the Holy Spirit, without which all human means and measures must prove inoperative and unavailing.

In view of the inadequate supply of ministers, are we not expressly commanded to pray the Lord of the harvest that he would send forth more labourers into his vineyard? Who but the sovereign and omnipotent Spirit can effectually prepare men for and call them to the sacred office? How is a sufficient number of ministers to be furnished for the immense and rapidly increasing wants of the Church and the nation, without extensive and powerful outpourings of the Holy Spirit? And how are such revivals of religion to be obtained, except in answer to united, fervent and believing prayer on the part of Christians?

How are we to expect an adequate supply even of pecuniary means, unless God shall incline his people to greater self-denial and benevolence? The silver and gold are his, and he distributes them according to his sovereign pleasure. The hearts of all are in his hands, and he can open them to the most enlarged liberality and zeal. But will God prosper his people and dispose them to benevolence, without importunate and believing prayer?

And how can either men or means avail, without the blessing of the Almighty? Paul may plant and Apollos water, but God must give the increase. Gold may be expended by thousands, and yet no real progress effected without the converting and sanctifying influence of the Holy Ghost. Ministers may be multiplied by hundreds, and every portion of our extended country abundantly supplied with all the external means of grace, and yet not a single soul can be saved from ruin everlasting, without the regenerating influence of the Holy Ghost.

Our greatest want is the powerful and extensive effusion of the divine Spirit. This is absolutely necessary to bring the Church up to its duty, and to make her efforts effectual. And as this can only be obtained in answer to prayer, prayer is of all means on our part the most important and indispensable. Let us all then cultivate and constantly exercise the grace of prayer. Let the whole Church unite in importunate and persevering supplication for the universal and powerful outpouring of the Spirit of God.

With such a spirit of prayer throughout our Church, how glorious would be our progress! How soon would our treasury be filled to overflowing! What multitudes would willingly consecrate themselves to the office and work of the gospel ministry! What spiritual life and vigour would at once be infused into all our churches! What multitudes would be converted and saved! How rapidly and surely would the kingdom of our Lord be extended and established! What glory would redound to our adorable Redeemer!

How weighty are our responsibilities. How great and urgent the motives to immediate and energetic activity. How numerous are our encouragements to prayer and effort. Our self-denials have, comparatively, been few—our liberality small—our exertions feeble—our prayers infrequent, formal and unbelieving; and yet how greatly has God in his mercy blessed us in this missionary work. How rapid and extensive have been the increase and expansion of our beloved Church, in answer even to our comparatively feeble prayers and very imperfect efforts. O, how much more would God do for and by us, if our prayers and exertions were in any proper degree commensurate with our personal obligations and privileges, and the wants of millions who are as yet destitute of the means of grace. We earnestly exhort, yea, in the name of Christ and in behalf of the souls of millions now ready to perish, we vehemently beseech the people of God to pray more fervently for the cause of missions, as well as to contribute more liberally of their substance towards the further and more efficient prosecution of this great and glorious work.

The usual Statistical Table of missionaries and labours performed, is now laid, with this Report, before the Assembly for inspection, together with all the papers relating to the state of the treasury.

The term of service of the following members of the Board expires during the meeting of this Assembly.

APPENDIX.

TENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WESTERN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TO THE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

THE Ecclesiastical year of the Board of Missions closed on the 1st instant (April), and the Committee are again called on to report to the Board concerning their labours during the year.

At no period since the organization of this Committee, have we had so many difficulties to encounter in the prosecution of our work. The commencement of the year found the country seemingly in a highly prosperous condition. The products of the soil bore a high price; the prospects of the growing crops all over our field were never more flattering. The labours of the merchant, the mechanic, and the professional man, were yielding a rich reward. Everything bade fair for a year of such prosperity to the Board in the matter of funds, as to warrant the Committee in laying out enlarged plans of usefulness, and extending their operations greatly beyond those of preceding years. Accordingly they commenced their work twelve months since, with that purpose fully formed, but the drouth soon set in with unexampled severity, and continued through the whole summer, blasting the flattering prospects of the cultivators of the soil over nearly the whole field entrusted to our care. Along with this came the failure of the banks, and the consequent derangement of the currency in several of our Western States, and the curtailment of the circulation of those which weathered out the storm. Many of the members of our churches who were in the habit of contributing freely to our treasury, found themselves either hopelessly in debt, or so embarrassed as to prevent them from making their usual contributions. And even such as were not in debt had their incomes so diminished, from the causes already alluded to, and the increased cost of living, as to preclude the possibility of their exhibiting their usual liberality, unless at a sacrifice of personal comforts and gratifications to which they had not been accustomed, and which they were unwilling to make. The pressure bore with greater severity upon ministers of the gospel than upon almost any other class. Their churches found more difficulty in raising their usual salaries than formerly, whilst the increased cost of almost every article necessary to support a family, rendered their necessities greater than usual. Many ministers who had gotten along previously without aid from the missionary funds, found themselves forced either to turn aside to some secular calling to supplement their insufficient salaries, or to apply to the Board for assistance. On this account, whilst our funds were rapidly diminishing, the demands upon them were increasing in a corresponding ratio. Hopeless bankruptcy was our certain prospect unless we abandoned our original purpose of enlargement of operations, and curtailed our expenses so as to make them correspond with our income.

This statement of facts will explain to the Board that which follows relating to the amount of the funds contributed to our Treasury.

STATE OF THE TREASURY.

The whole amount of cash received from all sources during the year, as shown by the Treasurer's report herewith submitted, was thirteen thousand one hundred and twenty-two dollars and sixty-three cents, ($13,122.63,) against eighteen thousand four hundred and fifty-four dollars and seventy-two cents, ($18,454.72,) received during the year ending

April 1, 1854—a decrease of five thousand three hundred and thirty-two dollars and nine cents ($5,332.09) from the former year. To this is to be added two thousand one hundred and seven dollars and thirty-four cents ($2,107.34) worth of clothing sent to the Depot by the ladies of the churches, against nineteen hundred and twenty-one dollars and forty-five cents ($1,921.45) sent from the same sources last year.

This decrease of funds would be a sad showing indeed, were the cause not explained by the facts already stated, and were it an evidence of a decreased interest in the great work of home evangelization in the churches and ministry of the West. The Committee feel an abiding conviction, however, that there is no abatement of interest in the cause in our churches, though they have not exhibited their accustomed liberality towards it. A much larger number of churches than usual have contributed nothing within the year; even the churches of some entire Presbyteries have so far neglected the matter, waiting probably for a more propitious season, or for the visit of an agent. From many such we may yet hope to receive something during the summer. It is a hopeful sign that the churches which have contributed, have generally done almost as well as on former occasions, notwithstanding the pressure of the times.

We regret that we are again called to state, that we have received but very little from most of the larger cities in our field; their churches either contributing but little to the great cause of Domestic Missions, or themselves expending their funds all in their own bounds, and not through the Board. For an expression of our views upon this policy we refer you to our last report. We have seen no cause to change the opinion then expressed upon that subject.

AGENCIES.

At the commencement of the year, Rev. B. M. Hobson, the agent for the Synods south of the Ohio River, gave the Committee notice that he could not serve them any longer, and asked to be excused from filling up the time for which he had been commissioned, as he was called to another field of labour. The Committee gave him up with reluctance. In the field occupied by him we were consequently without an agent until the 10th of October, when the Rev. E. T. Baird entered upon it, having been commissioned some time previously. He has been diligently and laboriously prosecuting his agency since that time with encouraging success and acceptability to the churches.

In the Synods north of the Ohio, and east of the Mississippi rivers, Rev. J. H. Gill laboured faithfully for nine months, but finding the pecuniary embarrassments of that region so great, and the results of his labours so unsatisfactory to himself, he declined further service for the Board, and recommended to the Committee to address a circular to the churches and ministers in that field, setting forth our wants, stating that we were without an agent, and would depend upon them to raise collections. This the Committee did, and some of the churches responded promptly and liberally, but by far the larger proportion have not been heard from yet, though we hope they will be soon. Should this experiment prove that the pastors and sessions will attend to the work of raising funds without the visit of an agent, it will have accomplished a great and important result, and one to which your Committee have for a long time had their attention directed.

The missionary and exploring agencies, to which allusion was made in our last report, as promising such desirable results, have been discontinued with the exception of about five months of efficient labour in the Synod of Arkansas by the Rev. Joshua F. Green, prior to his lamented decease. This discontinuance grew out of two causes, the want of funds to sustain them, and the impossibility of finding the men adapted to this self-denying and laborious work, who were willing to enter upon it. As soon as the proper men, and the money to sustain them can be secured, the Committee consider it highly important that such agencies should again be employed, at least in all the newer and more destitute Synods and Presbyteries.

MISSIONARIES COMMISSIONED.

The Committee began the year with about one hundred and twenty-five men in commission in our field, being twenty more than were in commission at the corresponding period of the previous year, and since that time we have re-commissioned one hundred and five former missionaries; and issued sixty-three commissions to missionaries not before in commission. During the year which preceded this, we issued one hundred and one re-commissions, and seventy-nine new ones. This shows a decrease of twelve in the number of commissions granted during the year from the number granted during the preceding year, and an increase of eight in the number of missionaries employed. When we remember the rapidity with which the population is increasing in these Western States, and the very large number of doors of usefulness which have been opened to our ministers within that time, which have either been left unoccupied, or entered by others more active than ourselves, we can but feel humbled at such a result. Instead of the small increase in the number of missionaries employed, and actual decrease in the number of new men introduced into the field within the year, as compared with the number introduced the previous year, we ought to have been able to count an increase by scores if not by hundreds. We are scarcely filling up the ranks of those who have fallen by death, or have become disabled from active service by disease, and of course very far from keeping up our former ratio of ministers to the increasing population of these States. Ignorance and vice are rapidly increasing around us, and souls are hastening to the eternal world unprepared for their final account. Whatever is done for them must be done quickly, or it cannot be done at all. Patriotism and philanthropy, as well as piety, urge us to diligence and increased zeal in planting the institutions of the gospel in every city, hamlet and neighbourhood of our wide country. God has given so goodly a heritage to no other people as he has given to us. Our privileges can be perpetuated by no other process so effectually as by the spread of a pure gospel.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, we would state that a very small number of churches aided by our funds have become self-sustaining during the year. This is accounted for by the facts already stated. Churches formerly self-sustaining, have found great difficulty in meeting all the calls upon them for the support of the gospel at home, and in a few cases have applied for assistance. We have scanned all applications with a close and searching scrutiny, and in a few cases have declined granting aid even where applications were made in the constitutional way, but where the prospects of good results seemed to us to be small. By your generous liberality, far exceeding that of any previous year, we have been able to pay off all the missionaries who have made reports to this date, and have a small balance left of $1,223 25, most of which has been received in a day or two past. There are, however, quite a large number of missionaries yet to report for whom we have to make provision, as their reports come in, and unless the churches which have done nothing within the year shall yet make collections, we shall be sorely pressed and harassed to make the payments as they fall due to the missionaries during the summer, when our collections are usually small. There are three things necessary to make the work of home evangelization go forward more rapidly—an increase in the number of ministers adapted to the work of planting the gospel in frontier and destitute settlements; an increased liberality in the churches in contributing to their support; and the accompanying Spirit of God giving efficacy to their labours, without which men and money, and all machinery for sending them out and supporting them, will be in vain. All schemes which do not have for their ultimate aim the securing of one or all these objects, will eventually deceive the hopes of those who devise them. With these ends secured, almost any reasonable plan of conducting missions will be successful. Let all our ministers and church sessions pray, and labour to secure these, and the work will go on prosperously, and those who conduct the missionary operations of the Church will not be forced to make apologetic reports for the smallness of the results secured from year to year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

By order of the Committee.

W. W. HILL, Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, MAY, 1855.

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

Dr. Backus, from the Standing Committee on the Board of Missions, presented a report, which was read and adopted, viz:

1. Resolved, That the General Assembly has reason to express profound gratitude to Almighty God for the success with which he has been graciously pleased to crown the efforts of our Church in the prosecution of this most important and interesting work. Notwithstanding the past year has been one of uncommon commercial embarrassment and extensive failure of the crops throughout the country, which has affected nearly all benevolent operations, yet the receipts of the Board have been but very slightly diminished; and the Board has been able to increase the number and enlarge the salaries of its missionaries; and the great Head of the Church, while granting no little encouragement to nearly all our missions, has visited many of the churches under the care of the Board with special outpourings of the Holy Spirit.

2. Resolved, That this Assembly would express their approbation of the faithful, judicious and efficient execution on the part of the Board and its officers, of the important trusts committed to them; and they would call the attention of the Presbyteries and churches to the earnest appeals made in the report in favour of a more diligent and liberal co-operation in this great work. No cause has a stronger claim upon the Christians of this land, with its immense territory and rapidly increasing population, than that of Domestic Missions. The Assembly is pained therefore to learn that 1546 of our churches, more than one-half, still withhold their contributions from this important work.

3. Resolved, That this Assembly approve of the conduct of the Board in increasing its appropriations to its missionaries, and while they earnestly desire that the present scale should be continued, and even increased, yet they cannot recommend such an anticipation of funds as would involve any large debt at the close of the year, but they would urge the Board and the Presbyteries to renewed efforts to bring out the liberality of the churches, that while graduating their appropriations according to their receipts, they may still further increase them, that thus our missionaries may be relieved of many of those privations they have endured, and their efficiency and usefulness be greatly increased.

The Assembly, moreover, would embrace this opportunity to urge upon all our churches, to cherish a deeper sense of their responsibility in this matter, and systematically to contribute of their substance to meet the increasing demands of our country and the world.

SECRETARIES AND OTHER EXECUTIVE OFFICERS.

On motion of Dr. Plumer,

Resolved, That this General Assembly rejoices in the evidences submitted to it of the abundant labours and faithfulness of the Secretaries and other Executive Officers of our several Boards, and feels it a privilege to give this public expression of its confidence in their wisdom and energy.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

Resolved, 1. That in view of the peculiar emergencies of the case, and the increasing demand for aid in erecting churches in the new and the destitute settlements of our country, some more vigorous organized effort than is now in operation ought to be made by our Church at large, to supply this need.

Resolved, 2. That in order to carry out the purpose of the foregoing resolution, there be elected by the General Assembly, as long as it shall be found necessary, a Committee of Church Extension, consisting of — ministers, and — elders; one-third to be elected for one year, one-third for two years, and one-third for three years, to superintend the business of collecting, appropriating, and disbursing the necessary funds, with power to appoint a Secretary and Treasurer.

On motion, the blank in the foregoing resolution, as to the number of men, was filled by 24: twelve ministers and twelve ruling elders. St. Louis was chosen to fill the blank as to place.

Rev. Mr. Peters presented the report of the Committee to nominate members of the Committee on Church Extension, which was adopted. The Committee is as follows:

N. L. Rice, D. D.,
S. J. P. Anderson, D. D.,
S. B. McPheeters,
James Smith, D. D.

Ministers for two years:

J. B. Stratton,
J. C. Backus, D. D.,
J. H. Gray, D. D.,
J. G. Monfort, D. D.

Ministers for one year.

H. A. Boardman, D. D.,
W. S. Plumer, D. D.,
J. F. Cowan,
W. W. Phillips, D. D.

Elders for three years.

James Lenox,
H. R. Gamble,
William Risley,
Dr. McPheeters.

Elders for two years.

George Brown,
John Wood,
Nathaniel Cross,
John R. Walker.

Elders for one year.

David H. Bishop,
A. Gamble,
J. A. Maybin,
M. Newkirk.

Dr. Plumer submitted the following resolutions which were adopted, viz:

Resolved, 1. That the Committee on Church Extension, which has been acting under the direction of the Board of Missions, be directed to transfer to the Committee on Church Extension, elected by this Assembly, all the funds and papers in their possession, respecting this business.

Resolved, 2. That the Committee on Church Extension shall hold its first meeting in the lecture-room of the Second Presbyterian Church, in the city of St. Louis, at ten o'clock, A. M., on the first Tuesday of July next.

Resolved, 3. That in all meetings of the Committee, five shall be a quorum to do business.

Resolved, 4. That so far as applicable to the present Committee of Church Extension, the resolutions of previous Assemblies on the subject of Church Extension are renewed for their guidance in their work.

Rev. Mr. Smock offered a resolution, proposing a committee of three, with the Moderator as Chairman, to prepare a circular letter, addressed to our churches, on the subject of Church Extension, setting forth the necessities of the case, and the mode adopted by the Assembly to meet it, and urging a regular collection for this and other benevolent objects. Adopted.

CHARTER OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

To all to whom these presents shall come.

KNOW YE, That whereas the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America have a Board of Missions, composed of Ministers and Laymen, members of the Presbyterian Church, the design of which is to afford aid to feeble Presbyterian churches, in the support of pastors, to form new churches, and supply destitute settlements with the stated ministry and gospel ordinances; and whereas, the aforesaid Board of Missions labours under serious disadvantages as to receiving donations and bequests, and as to the management of funds entrusted to them for the purposes designated in their Constitution, and in accordance with the benevolent intentions of those from whom such bequests and donations are received;

Therefore, William Brown, William Nassau, Sen., Matthew Newkirk, Solomon Allen, Alexander Symington, Ashbel Green, Cornelius C. Cuyler, William A. McDowell, and Thomas Hoge, citizens of the United States, and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and their successors, are hereby constituted and declared to be a body politic and corporate, which shall henceforth be known by the name of the "Trustees of the Board of Missions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America," and as such shall have perpetual succession, and be able to sue and be sued in all courts of record and elsewhere; and to purchase and receive, take and hold, to them and their successors for ever, lands, tenements, hereditaments, money, goods, and chattels, and all kinds of estate which may be devised, bequeathed, or given to them, and the same to sell, alien, demise, and convey; also to make a common seal, and the same to alter and renew at their pleasure; and also to make such rules, by-laws, and ordinances, as may be needful for the government of the said Corporation, and not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States and of this State: Provided always, that the clear yearly value of the real and personal estate held by the said Corporation, shall not at any time exceed the sum of two thousand dollars.

The Trustees above named shall hold their offices one year from the date of their incorporation, and until their successors are duly qualified to take their places, who shall be chosen by the aforesaid Board of Missions at such times, and in such way and manner, as shall be prescribed by the said General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, provided not more than one-third of the Trustees shall be removed in any one year.

The Trustees hereby incorporated, and their successors, shall, subject to the direction of the said Board of Missions, have full power to manage the funds and property committed to their care, in such manner as shall be most advantageous not being contrary to law.

ASHBEL GREEN,

President of the Board of Missions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

BEQUESTS.

The General Assembly which met in 1840, authorized their Board of Missions to apply to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania for an Act of Incorporation; this application has been made, and a charter has been obtained, and the Board have now an incorporated Board of Trustees, entitled "The Trustees of the Board of Missions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America." To this body, all legacies or bequests for the Board of Missions should now be given.

For the direction of any who may wish to make bequests to the Board of Missions, we subjoin the following form :

FORM OF A DEVISE OR BEQUEST.

To the Trustees of the Board of Missions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and to their successors and assigns, I give and bequeath the sum of ———, or I devise a certain message, and tract of land, etc., to be held by the said Trustees, and their successors for ever, to and for the uses, and under the direction of the said Board of Missions of the said General Assembly, according to the provisions of their charter.

Persons making bequests to the Board of Missions are requested to be careful in adopting the above form.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD, 265 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

All letters relating to Missionary appointments and other operations of the Board, should be addressed to the Rev. G. W. Musgrave, D. D., Corresponding Secretary, No. 265 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Donations and subscriptions to

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS FOR MISSIONARY AID.

Applicants for missionaries and missionary aid, are respectfully and earnestly requested to pay particular attention to the following rules and regulations of the Board :

Rule 1. Regular form in which applications are to come up to the Board as often as made

Applications to the Board for Missionary appointments and pecuniary aid, and also for the re-appointment of Missionaries, should always be made by the Elders of the Church, through the Presbytery or the Corresponding Executive Committee of the Presbytery to which the church applying for assistance belongs—accompanied with a recommendation from said Presbytery or Committee, of the Missionary to be appointed, and a specification of the amount of aid indispensably necessary.

If there be no Corresponding Executive Committee in the Presbytery, the application must be fully sanctioned by two neighbouring ministers, connected with the Presbytery to which the church belongs.

Rule 2. Of the Board, in relation to renewing, dating and ante-dating Commissions.
Passed March 10th, 1851.

In consequence of the constantly repeated applications of Presbyteries to ante-date Commissions, some for three, others for six, and some even for twelve months, and without any apparent reason, other than want of attention and prompt action on the part of Presbyteries and Committees of Presbyteries on Missions, thereby embarrassing the business of the Board, and depriving the Board of an accurate knowledge of the expenses of our Missions, for which provision must be made weekly, therefore,

1. Resolved, That the Presbyteries and Committees of Presbyteries on Missions, be respectfully requested to have Commissions of their Missionaries renewed before the expiration of their time of service, if practicable to do so; and in all cases to state definitely the time when they wish the Commission to be dated.

2. Resolved, That from and after the 1st day of May, 1851, the Board will ante-date no Commission beyond two months from the time of the reception of the application at the Mission Rooms, either in Philadelphia or in Louisville.

3. Rules of the Board in relation to careful examination of applicants:—to information requested of Presbyteries by the Board to assist it in its action:—and to churches able to support the gospel for themselves.

“On motion,

1. Resolved, That the Committees of the Board, in Philadelphia and Louisville, be directed to examine carefully into the propriety and justice of every application for new Commissions, or for renewal of old ones, and whenever the sums applied for may be reduced, that the reduction may be made.

2. Resolved, That the Presbyteries be requested to state the amount raised by the churches or congregations forming missionary fields, in support of their pastors or missionaries, when they apply for Commissions from the Board for them, in order to enable the Board to act more intelligently on the applications.

3. Resolved, That before a Presbytery entertain the application of any organized church or missionary field, it be requested to inquire whether said church or field has any reasonable prospect of becoming self-sustaining; and whether said church or field may not properly and profitably be united with some contiguous church or churches, and the labour of a missionary and the expense of his support be saved to the Board, agreeably to the recommendation of the General Assembly.

4. Resolved, That all churches which have been long upon the Board, and are able to support the gospel of themselves, have their appropriations reduced; and that they be discontinued by the Board as soon as possible, in order that the Missionary funds of the Church may be husbanded, and more liberally and extensively applied to fields that are purely missionary, and in which the Church may expand and grow.”

CLOTHING.

Boxes of Clothing for Missionaries.—For the information of those who may wish to furnish clothing, or other articles, for the comfort of our missionaries and their families, we publish the following.

Boxes of clothing, when sent directly to the office of the Board, without any particular designation, will be forwarded to such missionaries as are known to be the most needy; and the missionaries, to whom a box from any congregation or association is sent, will be requested to write to the donors, acknowledging the receipt.

In some instances, we are asked at the office to designate some missionary, and give particular information in regard to his circumstances, his family, etc. This information it is not always in our power to give; and not unfrequently difficulties arise from selecting particular missionaries in that way. As a general rule, then, we would say, as the result of our own experience in this matter, that if the donors have no special reasons for designating a particular missionary, the distribution of these boxes had better be left to the officers of the Board at the office. Our decided impression is, that a more equitable and judicious distribution will in this way be made, and the object of the benevolent donors be more completely gained.

We ask particular attention to the following directions for forwarding boxes :

1. In every box that is sent, put a list of all the articles, with an estimated value of each article ; put on this same paper the name of the individual, congregation or association from whom the box comes ; also the address of the person to whom a letter of acknowledgment is to be sent. Let this paper be put in the box where it will readily be seen on the box being opened. A copy of this list, with a letter, should also be sent to the Office of the Board, in which letter, information should be given of the time when the box was sent, and by what conveyance, and any other things connected with the donation, which it may be desirable should be known at the office.

2. The box should be fully and plainly marked, "Mission Rooms, 265 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia," and the place from which it comes should always appear on the outside. The articles should be carefully put up in strong and tight boxes, well nailed, and secured against rough handling, on a long voyage.

3. It is important all boxes of clothing designed more especially for the West, should be at the office as early as the first of September, that they may reach their destination before the navigation closes.

Clothing Distributed Gratuitously.—Boxes of clothing form no part of a missionary's regular appropriation—the Board, therefore, need the same amount of funds to meet their engagements, as if no boxes were forwarded. It is very important this should not be overlooked. These boxes are of great value to missionaries, and they need all that is sent to them ; but we should be careful not to suffer these acts of kindness to lessen our pecuniary donations to the cause. The cause cannot admit of this without loss, and serious loss. Thus far, there has been no pecuniary loss, but rather a gain, by the interest which has been excited in the preparation of these boxes. We fondly hope it will continue to be so, and that the interest in this cause will continue to increase, until our whole land is supplied with the gospel privileges.

Contents of Boxes.—As to what is to be put into these boxes, we are willing to leave that matter to the judgment of our good ladies, who so well know what is wanted in a family. Scarcely any article in common use will come amiss. Knives and forks, spoons, scissors, thread, yarn, silk, needles, pins, tape, buttons, etc. etc., in addition to articles of substantial wearing apparel, will be thankfully received. Flannel, muslins, calicoes, etc., not made up, are very acceptable. Garden seeds, medicines, etc.

PRINCIPLES UPON WHICH THE WORK OF DOMESTIC MISSIONS IS CONDUCTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Resolved, That the Assembly would re-affirm all the principles upon which it has heretofore carried on its Domestic Missions—principles which have been exhibited in a review of all the published minutes, acts, and doings of the Church in her highest judicatories from the beginning ; and which are drawn up and set forth in order in the Report of the Board of Missions, May 1852.

Resolved, That the great work undertaken for so long a time by the Assembly, is the expansion and full establishment of the gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, by his own spirit and power, over all our vast country. And it is purely a missionary work ; missionary in this respect, that ministers are sent out by the Assembly, and means furnished for their support, in whole or in part, while they are preaching the gospel, and gathering and establishing churches. So soon as individual churches, or groups of churches are established, and are able to support all the institutions of the gospel for themselves, they are no longer missionary in character, but immediately cease their connection with the Board, and fall into line with the great body of self-sustaining and contributing churches, and go to add to the solid material and power of the Presbyterian Church. Now the principles upon which the General Assembly conducts its Domestic Missionary work are these : 1st. It is in the sense defined, a missionary work. 2d. The funds contributed for it are missionary funds. 3d. The men employed in preaching the gospel are, in their fields, missionary men. 4th. All the churches and fields aided and supplied, are missionary churches and fields. 5th. The funds supplied are funds for temporary assistance, and not for entire nor permanent support. The people aided are to help themselves, be it ever so little, from the beginning, and are to go on to independence. 6th. The grand end and aim of the Assembly is to establish self-sustaining churches and fields, as fast and as far as possible, and so to increase the solid material and power of the Church, and accumulate strength to go forward expanding. 7th. Ministers and means are to be distributed according to the relative importance and promise of different fields, and in view of the necessities of the whole field, that there may be equality and no partiality. 8th. The Assembly conducts this work through a Committee or Board, responsible to itself alone, under its advice and control, and which Board is required to exercise its sound discretion and judgment in deciding upon, and in conducting the business entrusted to it. 9th. No debt to be incurred in carrying forward the missionary work. The Assembly always acted upon this just and only safe principle, and a principle which has always been adhered to by our Church, and in the Assembly of 1803 the following resolution was passed: "That there ought to be no anticipation of the funds in future; or in other words, that appropriations ought not to be made in any year, beyond the amount which the funds arising in that year will be sufficient to satisfy." p. 280. 10th. And finally, agents for visiting the churches, and collecting funds for the work, may be employed by the Board.

Resolved, That the Board be directed to go forward and conduct the work entrusted to its care on these principles as heretofore, and that they be commended to the attention and observance of all Presbyteries and churches in their applications for aid, and that the Board be also instructed to pay, as heretofore, due regard to the recommendations of Presbyteries. That all pastors and stated supplies be requested to take pains to circulate the Report when published, and diffuse more information on the subject of Domestic Missions among their people.—Minutes of the General Assembly held at Charleston, South Carolina, May 26, 1852, p. 215.

ACTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ON DISCRETIONARY POWERS OF THE BOARD.

ON APPLICANTS.—In answer to the questions propounded by the Presbyteries of Union and French Broad, the Assembly would say, that though they do not recognize in the Board of Missions the authority to sit in judgment upon the orthodoxy or morality of any minister who is in good standing in his own Presbytery; yet from the necessity of the case, they must exercise their own sound discretion upon the expediency or in expediency of appointing, or withholding any appointment, from any applicant, holding themselves amenable to the General Assembly for all their official acts.—Minutes, 1830, p. 16.

ON THE DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS.—Overture No. 13, a memorial from the Presbytery of Logansport, desiring the Assembly to say, whether the Board of Missions has the power to reduce the amounts recommended to be given in aid to any churches, under the care of any Presbytery, without consulting such Presbytery; and if so, whether the Board has not equal right to take away the whole amount so recommended in any case.

It was Resolved, That while the Assembly expects the Board of Missions to pay great respect to the advice of the Presbyteries, touching missionaries labouring within their bounds, yet, in the distribution of its funds, the action of the Board must be controlled by the state of its treasury, and the relative importance of the various missionary fields under its care.—Minutes, 1852, p. 221.

Feeble Churches to be Combined.—Resolved, That each Presbytery in our communion be recommended to discourage the sundering of feeble churches now united in support of the gospel, and generally to combine together such feeble churches in appropriate fields of labour, that the Board of Missions may be relieved from the need of a large allowance in such cases, and, where practicable, from the need of any allowance in aid of ministerial support.—Minutes, 1846, p. 206.
